Lippincott Procedures delivers these key benefits directly at the point of care:

Advanced search functionality helps staff find what they need quickly and easily.

In addition to delivering the most trusted clinical content, this continually updated and expanding product is designed to connect users to critical information without disrupting their workflow.

Easy navigation and search functionality allow staff to quickly find the right procedure when they need it. Within each procedure, staff can easily scroll through content by category or use hyperlinks to get to essential information quickly.

And Lippincott Procedures is fully customizable, allowing you to adapt the latest evidence-based, best-practice procedures or add custom procedures to support your organization's needs.

Reduce care variability within your organization.

Lippincott Procedures allows you to easily share procedural information across your entire organization, so that all staff perform critical techniques accurately and consistently, resulting in high-quality, standardized and optimized patient care. Reducing care variability helps facilities improve care quality, efficiency, and patient safety.

Ensure timely, accurate clinical decisions.

With a team of contributing nurses and subject matter experts, along with access to the latest and best research, evidence-based practices, guidelines, and regulations, we're able to regularly review, update, and add procedures throughout the year. This ongoing update process helps to ensure that your staff has access to accurate, current evidence to support clinical decision-making.

The Lippincott Procedures App is available on the App Store or Google Play.

The app is free to download, however, it requires an institutional subscription for your users to access the procedures. The app includes:

- 24/7 online or offline access to your facility's specific content, including notes and custom procedures
- Procedures, quick lists, checklists, and images
- Video clips, when accessing online
- Easy title searching
- Access to assigned skills competency tests and checklist evaluations, when signed in via username/password.

A faster way to improve nurse competence.

Lippincott Procedures includes superior training and administrative tools that enable critical techniques and procedures to be taught, reviewed, and maintained consistently. It can be used as a necessary resource for “just in time” learning on the unit, or a tool to help assess progress to proficiency while reducing the risk of errors at the bedside.

Competency tests, assigned and tracked through Lippincott Solutions’ administrative functions or integrated with your Learning Management System (LMS), give clinical educators and nurse managers the ability to test a clinician’s competency before they care for a patient.

In addition, online skills checklists can be administered to confirm and document the ability of a clinician to perform skills appropriately. Full tracking of results allows clinical educators and managers to evaluate additional learning needs and provide remediation resources. By promoting outstanding clinical care best practices, your organization will always be prepared for reviews and site surveys.

Support your efforts to raise care standards.

Lippincott Procedures helps to support your organization in meeting the criteria established by today’s leading healthcare accreditation and recognition programs, including:

- The Joint Commission
- The Magnet Recognition Program
- Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award
- U.S. News Best Hospitals.

“We love having Lippincott when it comes to Joint Commission and CMS visits. When CMS recently had a question about a policy of ours, we told them that ‘we use Lippincott.’ They immediately replied, ‘Great, then we know it’s definitely up to date.’”

Learning Management System and policy system integration.

Lippincott Procedures integrates into most Learning Management Systems that support AICC standards. This dynamic product also provides robust assignment capabilities, enabling an administrator to create a curriculum, electronically assign tests and checklists, view results, and automatically reassign testing, while sending reminders and status notifications to managers for further remediation.

Lippincott Procedures and RLDatix PolicyStat, the leading policy management system, offer a seamless integration for your policy and procedures. This integration allows clinicians to access Lippincott's procedures and skills directly from a search bar within RLDatix PolicyStat, saving time and encouraging the best practice of reviewing policy before a procedure. Integration with other policy systems can be linked from Lippincott Procedures' notes feature to the policy management system.
